Macro Market Update**

Following the week in markets, we expand on the recent movements, news and what to look out for in the coming week within our first edition of the Macro Market Update!

Disclaimer: all decisions and research has been done by students. The following decisions are made with the financial objects of the fund in mind, including education. They are not financial advice.

Advice: Write a few news paragraphs following previous macro market update set ups. Ensure to focus on the implications of the news rather than the news itself. (i.e, what the RBA/FOMC will think of it)
